

Seed Bombs

Supplies Included:

1. Construction paper
2. Assorted flower seeds
3. Silicone mold

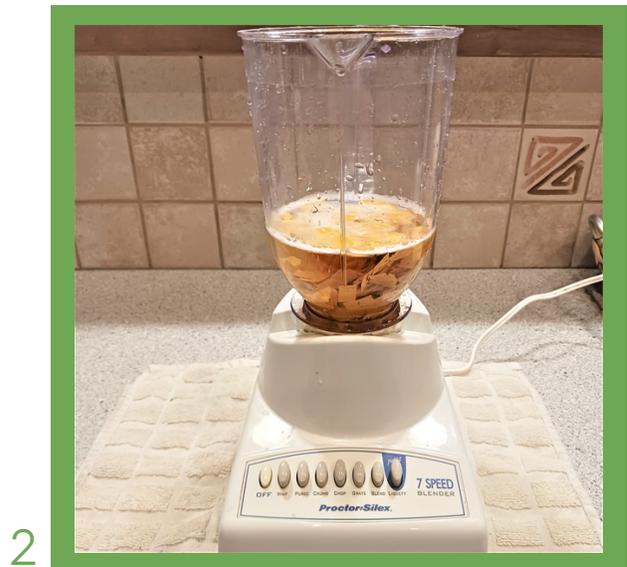

Supplies Needed:

1. Bowl
2. Hot water
3. Scissors (optional)
4. Blender or food processor (optional)
5. Mesh strainer (optional)

Instructions

1. Tear or cut your construction paper into small pieces, about 1 inch square, keeping the colors separate. If you don't plan to use a blender or food processor, cut these pieces as small as you can make them. (Fig. 1)
2. Place each color paper in a separate bowl. Fill each bowl with hot water, enough that all the squares are submerged. Let soak for at least 15 minutes.
3. Transfer your paper squares into a blender or food processor, if using. Pulse until you've made a pulp (Fig. 2).

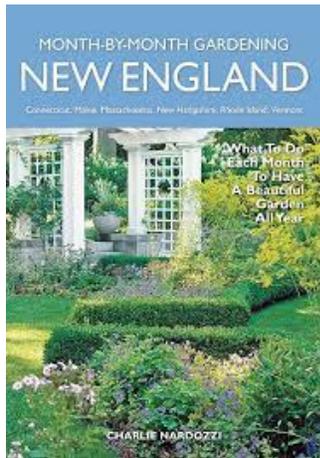

Instructions

4. Using either a mesh strainer or just your hands, squeeze as much water out of the pulp as you can.
5. Press the paper pulp firmly into the silicone mold, filling halfway (Fig. 3).
6. Sprinkle some seeds onto your seed bomb, then fill the rest of the mold with paper pulp (Fig. 4).
7. Let your seed bomb dry fully—this may take as long as 2-3 days. Now your seed bombs are ready to plant according to the seed package instructions!

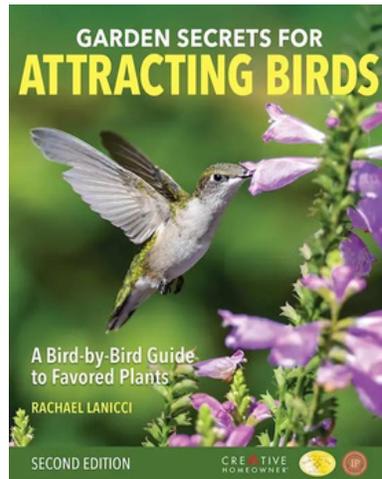

Want to learn more?

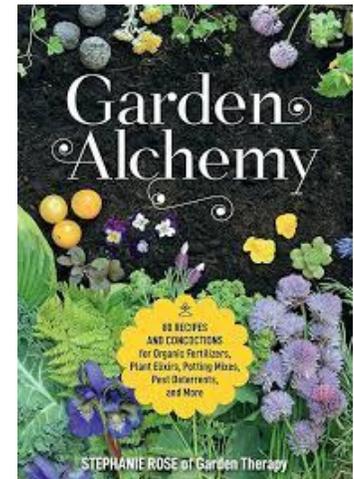

Check out other resources from our collection!

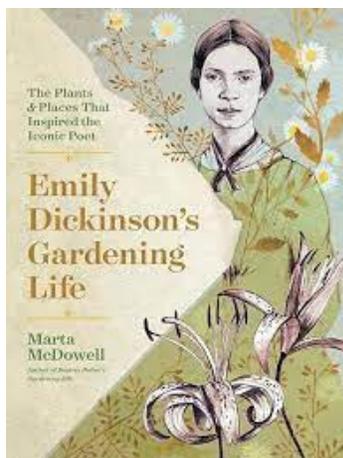

New England Month-by-Month Gardening: What To Do Each Month To Have a Beautiful Garden All Year
by Charlie Nardozzi

Garden Secrets For Attracting Birds
by Rachael Lanicci

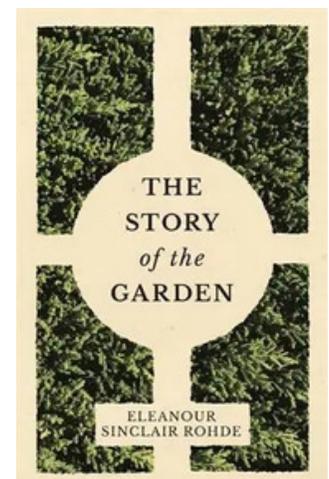

Garden Alchemy
by Stephanie Rose

Emily Dickinson's Gardening Life
by Marta McDowell

Intro to Gardening
via Universal Class

The Story of the Garden
by Eleanour Sinclair Rohde